

Setting up your Development Environment

Your Tasks (Mark these off as you go)

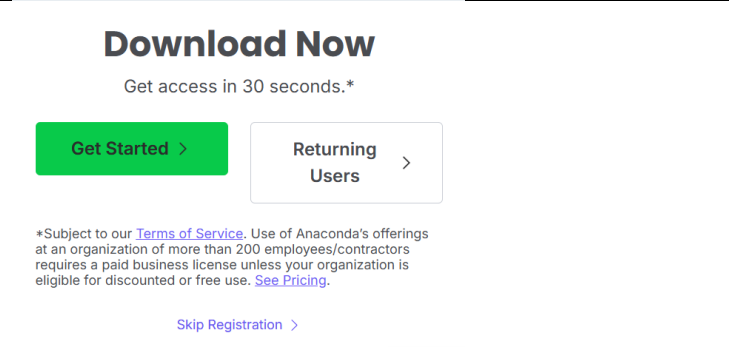

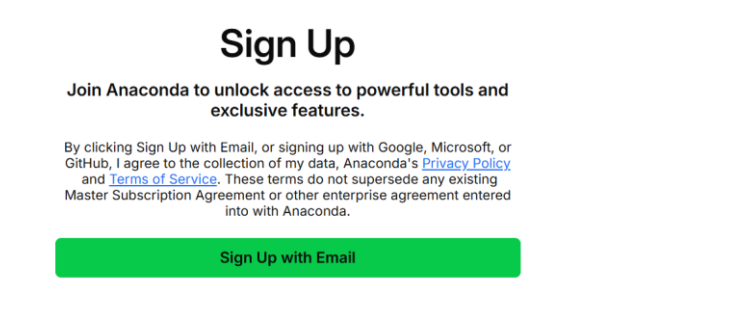

- ☐ Create a GitHub account
- ☐ Configure your username and email
- ☐ Install Visual studio code
- ☐ Install the Jupyter Notebook extension
- ☐ Clone a repository
- ☐ Complete your assignment with Visual Studio Code

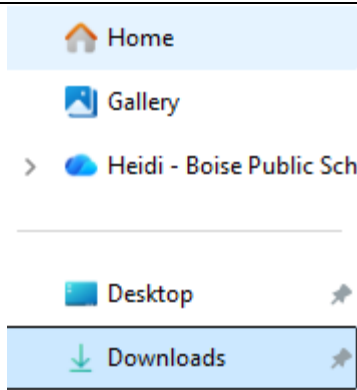

☐ Create a GitHub account

Following the tutorial below to get started with GitHub
Navigate to the following address, http://github.com then, click Sign up
Enter your email, then click Continue
Create a password and click Continue
Create username (This username will be public and viewable by everyone) and click Continue
Indicate whether or not you want to receive product updates and click Continue .
Solve the puzzle to verify your account

Click Create Account when done
Check your email and Enter code.
Select Just me and Student
Scroll to the bottom and click Skip personalization

❑ Install Anaconda

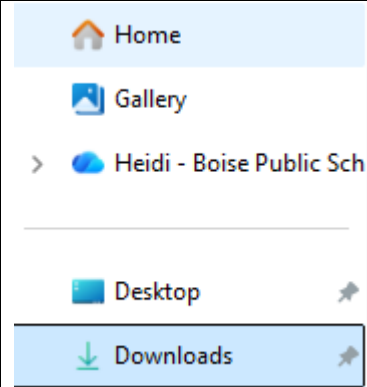

Following the tutorial below to install Anaconda
Navigate to the following address, https://www.anaconda.com/download then, click Get Started
Click Sign up with Email

Verify your email address	Verify Your Email Address Click the link in the email we just sent you to confirm your email address. Resend Email Not receiving the emails? Contact Support
Continue through the prompts, then select the Windows Installer * You MUST select the Miniconda option	Miniconda Lightweight installer that only includes conda, Python, and their dependencies. Install only what you need. GRAPHICAL INSTALLER ↓ Windows 64-Bit Graphical Installer i Graphical install instructions
Locate the downloaded file in your downloads file and continue with the install

□ Install Visual Studio Code

Follow the tutorial below to install Visual Studio Code
Navigate to https://code.visualstudio.com/download and download Visual Studio Code

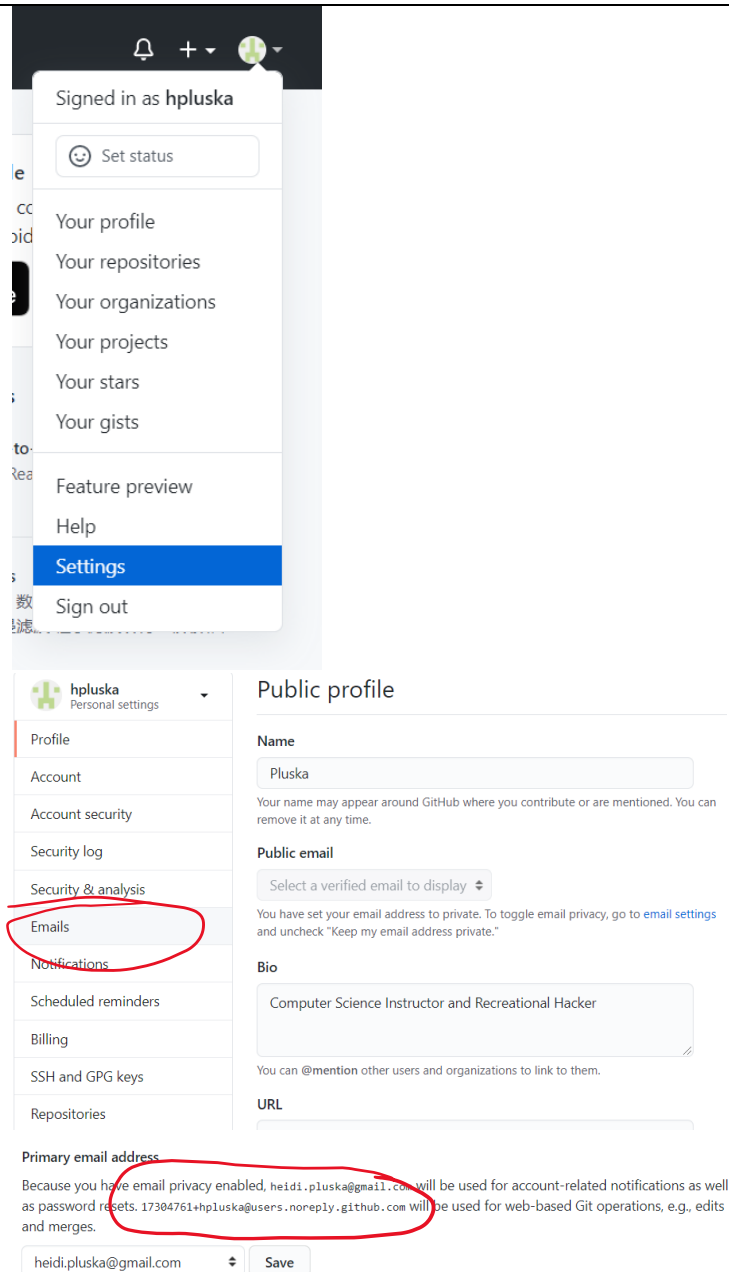

Locate the file in your downloads and continue with the install

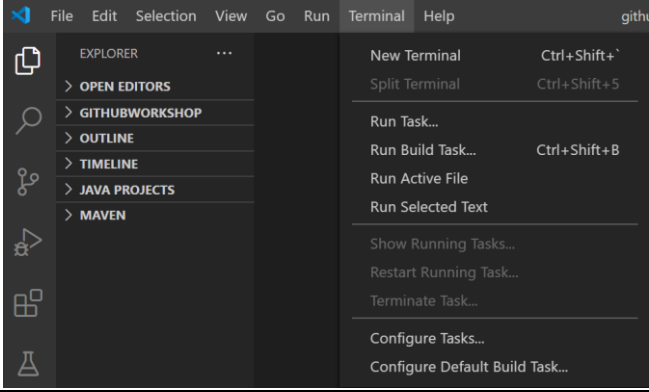

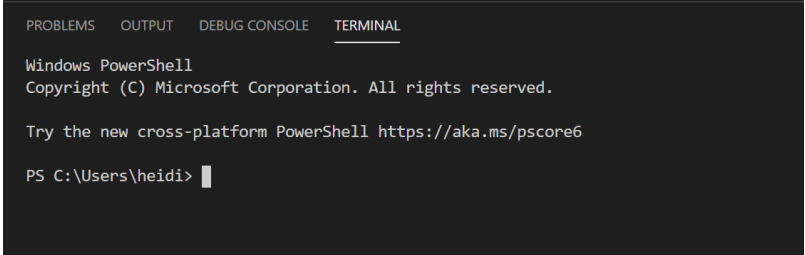

□ Configure your username and email

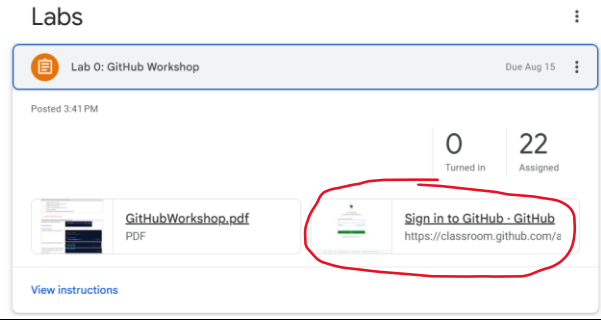

Log in to GitHub and locate your no-reply email

- Click on Settings from your start menu
- In the left menu, click on Emails
- In the Primary Email Address section copy the no-reply email provided in the text

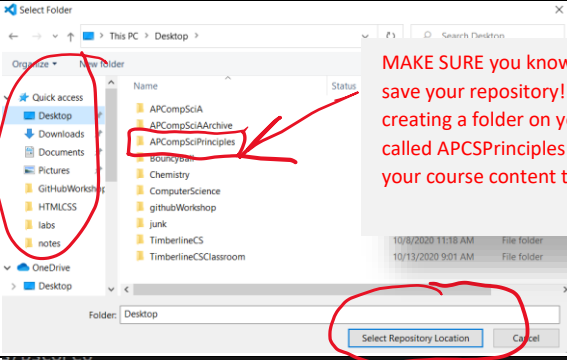

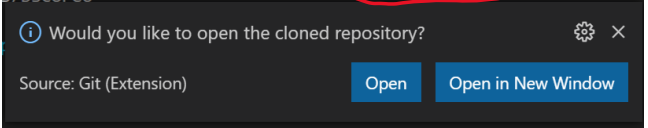

Open a Terminal - Open Visual Studio Code - From the menu at the top, select Terminal, New Terminal
Set the Git commit username and email on your local computer to the ones you used on your GitHub account. - Locate the terminal window at the bottom of the screen. - At the terminal prompt, type the following command, paste the email you just copied in between the quotes, then hit Enter. <pre>git config --global user.email "paste the email you just copied here"</pre> - To set your username, copy the following command, type your GitHub username in the quotes, then hit Enter. <pre>git config --global user.name "paste your username here"</pre>

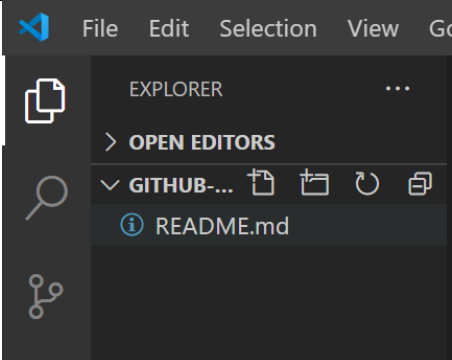

□ Clone a repository

Locate the GitHub assignment link in Google Classroom
Locate your name to join the classroom	Join the classroom: AP CSA P2 2324 To join the GitHub Classroom for this course, please select yourself from the list below to associate your GitHub account with your school's identifier (i.e., your name, ID, or email).

Click the green button to accept the assignment	Accept the assignment — GitHub Workshop Once you accept this assignment, you will be granted access to the <code>github-workshop-hpluska</code> repository in the <code>TimberlineCS</code> organization on GitHub. Accept this assignment
Refresh this page to see the link to the assignment.	You accepted the assignment, GitHub Workshop. We're configuring your repository now. This may take a few minutes to complete. Refresh this page to see updates.
Click on the blue link to go to the assignment repository.	You're ready to go! You accepted the assignment, GitHub Workshop. Your assignment repository has been created: https://github.com/TimberlineCS/github-workshop-hpluska-4 We've configured the repository associated with this assignment (update).
In the GitHub assignment repository you just accepted, locate the Code button and copy the https link. Make sure HTTPS is selected.
Return to Visual Studio Code - Click on the Control Source icon in the left menu - Click on the Clone Repository button	 control Source
Locate the text box at the top of the window and paste the URL to the repository you just copied, then click Enter

Navigate to where you would like to store the repository. The click Select Repository Location
In the bottom right corner of the screen locate the Would you like to open the cloned repository? Window. Click the Open button

□ Complete your assignment in Visual Studio Code

- Locate the README.md file in the left menu and click on it.
The file you clicked on is now open in the editor window. The README contains the instructions for completing this lab.	